Study Abroad Funding

Strategies for funding study abroad

After you have researched BYU and other study abroad programs, look for funding from these resources:

- Our Website: Start at www.nsfp.byu.edu/other-scholarships . In the white “Search Scholarships” box located in the top menu bar, type “study abroad.” Then click the “search” button and a list of study abroad scholarships will appear below.
- Scholarship Reference Books: Search reference books in 102 MSRB. These reference books contain thousands more scholarships than the website lists.
- On Campus: Contact your BYU department and college to ask if they provide scholarships.
- Other Online Websites: See <http://nsfp.byu.edu/content/scholarship-search-engines> to access other scholarship search engines.

Below is a list of some government, honor society, and country-specific study abroad opportunities listed on our website.

Remember that study abroad funding may not be designated as a “study abroad” scholarship. Apply for multiple non-study abroad scholarships as well.

Study Abroad Scholarships

Phi Kappa Phi Study Abroad Grant Fifty $1,000 undergraduate scholarships are awarded annually. Applicants must have a cumulative GPA of 3.75, must participate in a study abroad program that begins between May 1 and June 30, and must have applied/been accepted into a specific study abroad program--the letter of acceptance is required as part of the application. Membership in Phi Kappa Phi is not required. April 1st deadline.

Benjamin A. Gilman This award aims to encourage students to choose non-traditional study abroad destinations, especially those outside of Western Europe, Australia, and New Zealand. Up to $5,000 can be applied to program tuition, room and board, local transportation, insurance, and international airfare. Eligible applicants must be sophomores or juniors majoring in the natural sciences, mathematics, or engineering. Students must be U.S. citizens, have a minimum 3.8 GPA, and be in the top 25% percent of their class. March and October deadlines.

David L. Boren The National Security Education Program encourages students to internationalize their education by studying in countries critical to US national interests, but under-represented in study abroad. Recipients are awarded up to $8,000 for a summer program, $10,000 for a semester, or $20,000 for an academic year. Preference is given to students pursuing fields of study related to national security. December BYU deadline.

Honor Society Awards

These funding opportunities are available to members of honor societies; many of these awards offer significant funding, so plan ahead and apply for membership!

Alpha Lambda Delta members qualify to apply for the James G. Stemler Study Abroad Scholarship. Twenty $1,000 awards will be given on the basis of merit. February deadline.

Delta Sigma Pi undergraduate scholarships are awarded to members or to their descendants. Awards begin at $250 and go up to several thousand dollars. June deadline.

Golden Key International Honour Society offers both undergraduate and graduate scholarships ranging in value from $1,000 up to $10,000. Scholarships vary from study abroad funding and awards of academic excellence to research grants. Multiple deadlines.

Phi Eta Sigma Honor Society awards numerous undergraduate scholarships ranging from $1,000 up to $6,000. Those applying must be nominated by the BYU Phi Eta Sigma chapter. March deadline.
